Upper Quarter Panel Tool Trays, 1966-77 Bronco

Contents:

- 1 Tool Tray, Left
- 1 Tool Tray, Right
- 18 Self Tapping Screws

Tools Needed:

1/4" drive ratchet, extension and 5/16" socket.
Power drill and an 1/16" drill bit.
Contrasting Sharpie color marker. Black for light vehicles and Metallic Silver for dark vehicles works best.

Please read completely before beginning.

1. Place each Tool Tray in place as shown. The boxed end of the tray goes toward the front of the rig. The open end of the tray should fit tight against the back edge of the bed. The angled panel with predrilled holes should be flush with the bed side and level.
2. While firmly holding panel in place, mark the hole locations with the permanent marker. 7 across the edge and 2 on the tab.
3. Remove tray and drill 1/16" pilot holes for the self-tapping screws. (Damage may occur if Tool Tray is left in place during this step!)
4. Re-install Tool Tray. Then, using the 1/4" ratchet and socket, install all self-tapping screws securely. (caution: over tightening may cause threads to strip)
